All Prep School Scholarships are for entry into Years 5-8. These are reviewed at the point of entry to the Senior School.

The expectations are high as Scholars are role models, and pupils look to them for exemplary work ethic and behaviour. In the wider community, Scholars are ambassadors for the school. In return, Langley nurtures the talent, skill and confidence of its Scholars, and provides endless opportunities for them to excel.

They collaborate across year groups and hear from guest speakers and experts who bring new perspectives and real world insights to their learning.

5 SCHOLARSHIP SUBJECTS

ACADEMIC

Academic Scholars will demonstrate an exemplary attitude to learning and an exceptional all-round academic ability (high scores in Maths, English, reading and verbal reasoning will provide a strong indication of academic scholarship ability).

ASSESSMENT

For an Academic Scholarship, candidates will need to sit papers in English, Maths and Reasoning in addition to an interview with the Head of Prep. The academic scholarship papers will test pupils' powers of reasoning, deduction, inference and creativity.

AGES

9+ to 12+

CREATIVE DESIGN

"Creativity is allowing yourself to make mistakes. Art is knowing which ones to keep".
Scott Adams

ASSESSMENT

Candidates will be assessed across a variety of aspects and will be required to bring a small selection of recent examples of their own work (in any media) i.e. paintings, drawings, photos, constructions, etc. We want to see their experiments and mistakes, as well as their finished items. If they have one, candidates should bring their sketchbook with them. A report from their current teacher is also a requirement. In addition, candidates will be given the opportunity to talk about themselves and their involvement with art and details of any competitions they have entered. A specific standard is not required; however, children should show natural talent as well as aspirations to excel in Creative Design.

AGES

9+ to 12+

DRAMA

We would like to see a passion for Drama, a commitment towards performances and productions and budding actors ready to be ambassadors for the subject.

AGES

ASSESSMENT

During the audition, candidates will perform a play, film or book monologue of their choice, lasting approximately 1 to 2 minutes, depending on their age group. In addition, they will have a short interview with the Head of Drama, talking about the drama and theatre/school/performing arts school productions that they have seen and taken part in, and how they made them feel. We are looking for confidence to present ideas, creative use of technique, great communication skills, a love of performing, imaginative and exciting performance skills, as well as good use of voice and movement to portray a character with confidence and conviction.

MUSIC

As a Music Scholar, you will be given the chance to demonstrate your musicality and developing competency on your chosen instrument(s), including voice, and to show your love of music.

ASSESSMENT

The Music Scholarship assessment will consist of three components: instrumental, vocal and an interview with the Head of Music. Candidates will need to prepare two contrasting pieces on any instrument they will be offering and are encouraged to perform a short song of their choice. A specified standard is not required; however, children should show natural talent as well as a conscientious attitude to music. In addition to simple sight-reading and aural tests appropriate to their current instrumental grade, candidates will be given an opportunity to talk about their love of music.

AGES

9+ to 12+

SPORT

While Sport Scholarships can be based on performance in any given sport, an offer will be based on the ability of an individual to show willingness to strive for excellence in both competency and character through sport, and in line with the Langley values.

ASSESSMENT

Candidates will be assessed across a variety of aspects of fitness, including speed, endurance, agility and will have the opportunity to demonstrate their proficiency in Cricket, Hockey, Rugby, Netball, Athletics, Football and Swimming. A high level of proficiency in at least one of these sports is expected. In addition, candidates will take part in a small group interview led by the Head of Prep Sport.
