The Anthony Arthur Coward Scholarship 2024

Welcome

I am delighted to be able to introduce this award. Due to the generosity of Barbara Hunt, we are able to fund a full scholarship into the Sixth Form, which will cover all tuition fees, lunches, transport to and from school and trips. There will be one award each year into the Sixth Form.

Jon Perriss
Headmaster

Anthony Arthur Coward and Barbara Hunt

Anthony was a pupil at Langley in the late 1960s and early 1970s. He lived in London and boarded at the school; he had a wonderful time in the rural setting, such a contrast from home, and was always appreciative of the care he was shown and the tuition he received. His Aunt, Barbara Hunt wanted to reflect this fondness for Langley in her will and has left a very generous legacy to the school. Tragically Anthony died young and this scholarship has been set up in his honour, acting on the wishes of his aunt, so someone else can benefit from a Langley education as he had.

The Criteria

The criteria for this award is academic ability and socio-economic need. Although we champion holistic education, there are other scholarships for this, centrally, the Nelson Scholarship. This particular award is focused on intellect and academic ability; both proven and potential. The successful candidate will also have socio-economic needs and this award would be the only way that they would have the opportunity to access the education available at Langley.

Applying

To apply, please complete our Anthony Arthur Coward Scholarship application form, detailing your qualifications, predicted grades, hobbies, co-curricular activities (such as clubs, teams, competitions). A reference from your current school will also be required.

The application deadline is Friday 20th October 2023.

Assessment

We will be holding an assessment day in November 2023. This will comprise of a set of written assessments on a subject of your choice. There will also be an interview with the Headmaster.

About Langley

Based just south of Norwich in Loddon, Langley Senior School has purpose-built classrooms, a design and technology centre, computing suites, and state-of-the-art sports hall. Within its 110 acres of beautiful grounds and woodland, you will find a private Chapel, lake, AstroTurf, tennis and netball courts, cricket pitches and nets, rugby pitches and athletics fields. The Senior School is also home to the Langley Football Academy, which is run by ex-professional Grant Holt and, as an Academy, it is unrivalled in East Anglia.

Sixth Form

The dedicated Sixth Form Centre at Langley has its own ICT suite, café, resource and seminar rooms, and a variety of work areas. In small class sizes, there is an extensive academic offering, including Creative Arts, the Sciences, Languages, Economics, Politics, Sport (BTEC) and Extended Project Qualification (EPQ). Academia is complimented by the Langley co-curricular provision, which ranges from subject seminars, revision conferences, Model United Nations, debating, to international trips. Leadership opportunities are extensive, including Heads of School, School Prefect, House captain, chair of a club or society, CCF team leader, coach of a younger sports team – there are opportunities for all.

What did getting a Scholarship at Langley mean to you?

Getting a Scholarship at Langley has been one of the most important things that has happened in my life so far. Without the financial help of a Scholarship, I never would have been able to attend the School and subsequently benefit from all the wonderful opportunities that Langley offers. Model UN, debating and a chance to study Mandarin one-on-one are just a few of the invaluable things that I was lucky enough to participate in. Of course, this does not even begin to mention the incredible pastoral and academic support that I received throughout my time at the School, and have continued to receive even three years after leaving.

What did you love most about Sixth Form at Langley?

It goes without saying that the Langley Sixth Form experience is fantastic: the facilities, grounds, hot chocolates and treats in the café, countless opportunities (as mentioned above) and brilliant teaching. Above all though, for me, the feeling of belonging, safety and inclusion is what I loved most about Sixth Form. The teachers and staff gave up an unbelievable amount of time to help me through my academic and personal life (and basically everything that comes with being a 16 to 18 year old!) I can say with absolute certainty that I would not have secured my place at Cambridge University without their support.

What advice would you give to those considering applying for a Langley Scholarship?

The best advice I could give to someone is to focus on your strengths. I have always had a tendency to place all of my attention on the things I can't do, and often then forget about the things that I can. Recognise your weaknesses, do what you can to improve them, but then put them to the back of your mind and concentrate on all the things you're brilliant at.

How did your time at Langley prepare you for your university experience?

The flexibility and diverse manner of teaching really prepared me for uni, especially the supervision/small group teaching that is common at Oxbridge and other Russell Group universities. The small class sizes really lent themselves to becoming used to participating and building a rapport with other students (and teachers).
